

CG Series GEL Batteries Real Gel batteries quite different from AGM batteries. The batteries are lead-acid batteries with gelified electrolyte. The cells of a gel battery are sealed which makes the battery independent of orientation, unlike normal lead-acid batteries. The batteries's feature is more circles of charge and discharge, and the life is longer more than AGM batteries's.

You can get the relative data in Section CG Series under Item Product in the website.

